STEWART, GUILTY OF MURDER, WILL BE ELECTOCUTED

Negro Sentenced to Die in Chair by Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen.

WIFE SENT TO "PEN"

A sentence of death for murder in the first degree of Paul Newcomer was imposed on George Stewart, negro, by Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen in Uniontown yesterday afternoon. Two other defendants in the same case, Lucy Stewart, wife of the guilty man, and Wilbert Randolph, both convicted of second degree murder, were also sentenced. The woman drew life to 4 years in the Western Penitentiary and Randolph was given not less than 4 nor more than 20 years.

The trio were charged with the murder of Paul Newcomer on January 4, last, near Smock. The young man, a taxi driver, was shot in the head by Stewart, who confessed on the stand. The verdict the jury recommended the extreme mercy of the court for recommendations were taken into consideration by the court in imposing sentence.

Asked if he had anything to say why he should not be put to death, Stewart replied: "I have nothing to say."

He never faltered as the solemn words, announcing his sentence, were uttered by the court. There were no demonstrations in the court room when the negro took his seat when the sentence had been completed and listened to the sentences imposed on the others.

Randolph remained cool as he heard his sentence pronounced and Mrs. Stewart maintained her nerve until she took her seat. Then she wept until taken from the court room. Stewart, taken to his cell, immediately offered to pray. He said he was ready to die but still maintained hope.

Mrs. Stewart and Randolph were taken to the Western Penitentiary in morning on the early Pennsylvania Railroad train, together with five other prisoners. Stewart was allowed to see his wife before she was taken away today.

The date of Stewart's execution will be fixed by the governor.

Mrs. Stewart is the first woman in several years to be convicted of second degree murder in the Fayette county courts.

Frank Egan and Charles Shuster, convicted a few hours previously, were sentenced for the robbery of Schlitz Vontant at Niles Station, near Port Clinton. Each was given not less than nine nor more than 10 years in the Western Penitentiary.

T. W. Trevisor of Dunbar, charged with the larceny of about $900 from John Sallenger last August, when they were living together, was convicted by a jury yesterday afternoon before Judge Van Swearingen.

William Uphold, arrested in Connellsville on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $75, and serve nine months in the county jail. On payment of the fine and costs the jail sentence will be remitted.

J. Griffin Ash, of Connellsville, charged with carrying concealed weapons, forfeited his bail of $500, placed on him when given a preliminary hearing before Alderman Fred Munk here shortly after his arrest. Information against Ash was made by Constable B. Rottler.

At a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Daniel A. Ploof of Meyersdale, he was held in the sum of $1,000 bail for his appearance at the next term of criminal court. Unable to secure the required bail, he was taken to the Somerset jail by Deputy Sheriff Lester Wagner.

WEST PENN EMPLOYEES ENTERTAINED AT HOME OF J. D. ELLENBERGER

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, March 17.—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ellenberger at their home in First street, Speers Hill, entertained a number of West Penn men, comrades in employment of Mr. Ellenberger, at an unusually nice oyster and chicken supper Wednesday. Mrs. Ellenberger is widely known as one of the finest cooks in the county, and she was certainly at her best. Beginning with oyster stew, followed by prime fried oysters, then chicken, tender and succulent with dressing as good as the chicken, relishes in variety, and ending with dessert of prime apple and pumpkin pie, cake and ice cream, fruit, candy and cigars.

Mr. Ellenberger is master carpenter for the West Penn Company, which position he has held for many years, coming to the company from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, where he had been in charge of bridge construction. His position with the West Penn includes bridges with other constructive work. His term of service with the two companies totals 40 years in bridge and repair work, and in all those 40 years he has never had a man seriously hurt. He is quite popular with both officers and employees of the company. After supper a social hour was enjoyed and then the trinity came home to their homes.

Those present were: A. Meyer of Greensburg, I. S. Friend, C. L. King and R. E. Herman, Connellsville; R. R. Bell and H. M. Faltz, Mount Pleasant; Luther Jones, Hammondsville; A. A. Herman, Dunbar, all employees of the West Penn. Other invited guests were Clarence Smith and J. L. Ketter, the champion fencers were Leffer Smith and Clarence Smith, who sampled everything that came their way. Smith loosened his belt three holes and Jones wore an elastic belt which was at capacity.

There was a large attendance, including a number of new members recently taken into the Legion.

After the business meeting a radio concert, given by Captain T. W. Scott, and a musical concert by John Brown's Melody Makers, were enjoyed. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Frank Sweeney, Charles Carson and Frank McCormack. The entertainment committee for April consists of Captain T. W. Scott, Irving Snow and Fred Reid.

WOMAN MURDERED

State Policeman Says Shooting, Believed Accidental, Was Purposeful.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 17.—Mrs. Anna Landes, 51, whose sudden death at her home near Hertzysville, Wednesday, was first described to apoplexy and then to a stray bullet, fired by a hunter, was murdered according to Corporal Rodney Shaver of the state police, who has been assigned to the case.

That Mrs. Landes had been killed by a bullet was not discovered until yesterday when her body was being prepared for burial. She was found near a window and on investigation by the state police a bullet hole was found in the glass. The corporal declared the gun had been fired at close range and had been purposeful.

HOUSE MARKS TIME UNTIL MONDAY WHEN BONUS WILL COME UP

REPUBLICAN LEADERS WILL CONFER WITH SPEAKER ON PROCEDURE.

NO MINORITY REPORT YET

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Both opponents and opponents of the plan to put the soldiers' bonus bill through the House Monday under a suspension of the rules, marked time today awaiting the return here late today of Speaker Gillett, with whom rests the decision on this question.

Republican House leaders were undecided whether they would confer with the speaker tonight or tomorrow. Mr. Gillett was expected to remain here until tomorrow night when he will go to Springfield, Mass., where he will speak Sunday. He will return to preside over the House Monday.

Leaders said they had no direct word from the speaker as to his views on procedure other than that given them before he left for Florida with President Harding. They were expected to inform him at the conference here that a large majority of the House membership desires the bill taken up Monday under a plan that would cut off all amendments and even a motion to re-commit. The speaker is known to look on his plan with disfavor but those in charge of the bonus legislation apparently had not abandoned hope of such consideration.

Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee said today that neither he nor Representative Collier, Democrat, Mississippi, would present a minority report on the bonus measure. It still was undecided whether Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, the third Democrat on the committee who voted against supporting the bill favorably, would submit minority views.

West Penn Will Remove Siding From Connellsville Street to McGee's, Is Report in Dunbar

DUNBAR, March 17.—Plans are completed and will soon be executed it has been authoritatively learned to remove the West Penn siding from Connellsville street opposite the Marlette news depot to a point between McGee's and the Pennsylvania trolley.

The passing siding in the borough has been a great annoyance to both the company and the public ever since the road was constructed. No street in the town is more congested with traffic and business than Connellsville street in the square where the siding is laid. None too wide in the first place the two tracks of the West Penn especially when the cars pass there or when it is necessary for the company to use other track for maintenance of way work cars completely block the street and hold up traffic, and just as often, if not oftener, the big traffic trucks block the tracks and hold up for some time the regular cars.

Tired of these delays and annoyances, the company has decided to dispense with it by the removal of the additional track, locating it on a lot owned by the company south of McGee's. This lot will admit of a siding fully as long as that in the borough, and all the annoyances will be done away with.

The change will likely be made within the next few weeks and probably within a fortnight.

"NO STATEMENT TO MAKE," SAYS SENATOR CROW

In all the welter of rumors, many of them wildly sensational, forecasting the withdrawal of Senator Crow as a candidate to succeed himself, not a single authorized statement has yet been made in Fayette county, Pittsburgh or elsewhere, concerning the Senator's intentions.

Late yesterday Senator Crow himself said in reply to an inquiry by telephone:

"I am feeling good. I have no other statement to make."

NO GOVERNMENT ACTION ON STRIKE; FEDERATION TO AID

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—No action has thus far been taken by the government affecting the probable break in the industry and officials are confident that nothing more could be done to adjust the disagreement in advance of its final development.

The government's policy toward the coal strike has been to maintain the status quo and to keep the industry and labor in a state of peace. The secretary continued, "It would be time enough for the government to step in, if necessary, to avert a crisis."

If there should be a protracted suspension of the mines or a lengthy strike following the inability of the operators and workers to agree on a wage plan, the secretary continued, "It would be time enough for the government to step in, if necessary, to avert a crisis."

J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal Association, has made public a letter he has addressed to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, complaining that the union had "sent broadcast" erroneous versions of testimony given by coal witnesses, seeking railroad rate reductions before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Morrow declared he had never testified that average selling prices of bituminous coal were $10.50 during 1921, out of which miners received $1.75 as labor cost, but had fixed the total cost of mining bituminous coal during October as averaging 2.95 per ton, against an average selling price received by the mine operators of $2.75.

Miners' coal miners who have voted to cease work April 1, came what may, will have the support of the American labor movement in their struggle. President Campers of the American Federation of Labor said, in a statement tonight, "Coal mines owned by a union, and coal miners, to confer with the workers upon the terms of a new wage agreement," he declared, adding that "no group of employers in any industrial controversy in this country has ever placed itself in a more indefensible position."

By Associated Press.

Eat Bran REGULARLY and You'll Relieve Constipation PERMANENTLY!

The sooner you and your family get on eating Kellogg's Bran, soaked and branbled, the quicker you'll all have a clean bill of health!

Because, Kellogg's Bran relieves constipation permanently if taken regularly. It keeps the intestinal tract free from congestion—it absorbs and it purifies without any discomfort or irritation! And, it frees you from habit-forming pills and cathartics which never could and never will give permanent relief! Do not confuse Kellogg's Bran with "bran flakes"!

Your physician will endorse Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it is the ideal way to correct this trouble—through "the food you eat." Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly each day, will work wonders for the health of every member of your family! Each one should eat at least two tablespoons daily; chronic cases, as much as is necessary.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and branbled, is not only nature's food but it is delicious to eat as a cereal! Or, on your favorite cereal each morning! Its nut-like flavor is delightful! Use Kellogg's Bran in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes—in a hundred different and appetizing ways! Keep a dish of Kellogg's Bran on the dining table. Sprinkle it on food! We guarantee results. Your grocer has it.

Kellogg's Bran is particularly desirable for children. It builds up strong bodies! Another thing: Kellogg's Bran at the same time will clear up a pimply complexion and a rotten throat!

WOMAN AND MEDICINE

In Europe years ago a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy hounding about dogmas of religion and medicine and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice. It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value.
They let the men fight out the questions of theories. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound prepared almost 50 years ago by a woman, Lydia E.
Pinkham did then and does now relieve the ailments peculiar to women.
It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood by grateful women who have used it.—Advertisement

How Soon Should Baby Chicks Be Fed?

Authorities Say—
Two Days After Hatching

Through scientific observations, it is now known that shortly before hatching, the chick takes into its body the yolk of the egg, and is thus provided by nature with food for at least 36 hours and up to 72 hours.
At the end of 48 hours, sprinkle a little Vitality Chick Mash on a board or in a saucer. Let them eat sparingly but frequently, say five times daily. Vitality Chick Mash is easily digested and will give chicks a good start. Its Dried Buttermilk content is a great bowel regulator and tissue builder.

The second or third day, chicks should be strong enough to scratch and a little Vitality Chick Scratch should be scattered over the top of the litter twice daily.

Your chicks will make fast, healthy growth on this ration because it is high in protein that is easily converted into bone, muscle and feathers. It contains the elements which most poultry authorities agree make an economical balanced ration, and produce vigorous pullets that lay early.

Vitality Chick Mash contains dried milk, fine ground meat and bone meal, besides the protein cereals, carotene and vitamins.

Vitality Chick Scratch is made from clean, cracked wheat, sifted cracked corn, cracked kafir corn, millet seed and steamed oats, with or without grit.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 17, 1922.

THE HAPPIEST ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Irishmen everywhere will today share with those who are still rooted to the native soil in enjoying what will be the happiest St. Patrick's Day for many centuries past.

Having, as Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, has said, been "sustained by the fundamental justice of her cause and by the sympathy of the people of the world, and pre-eminently of the American people," the terror which has gripped Ireland on previous celebrations of her patron saint, "this year is gone and Ireland takes control of her own destiny and place among the nations of the world."

Nowhere, except in Ireland, is the rejoicing more heartfelt than in America, that "Ireland restored to the Irish people is also Ireland restored to the world."

So, upon this day which is rich in the promises of a happy future for Ireland, every friend of liberty and justice will sincerely and devoutly wish the new nation may realize the fondest dreams of its leaders and become one of the most prosperous and contented, so that it may never cease to bless the world by the example it shall give in exalting righteousness to a high place in its government.

Thus far the City Council has shown greater aptitude in getting into angles than facility or grace in getting out of them.

The Acorn and the Oak

Newspaperdom.

No advertiser, small though his space be, need fear that his message is buried in the newspapers because larger advertisements face him every time he turns to see how his copy looks in print. Small advertisements are like small fruit trees and flower plants, and the smaller they are the more attention they appear to receive in efforts to help them grow. It is human nature to effect sympathy and cooperation to the work, and this sympathetic touch applies to advertising just as it does to anything else. The small advertisement, persistently published, leaves its imprint upon the public mind—and this public attention helps to grow and strengthen as the years come and go. Finally, the small advertiser becomes the buyer of large space.

In the process of evolution, the public remembers that there was a day when this small advertiser did his best according to his "lights." That he grew from a small beginning to a giant advertiser is all the more proof that his product stood the test of time and consumer exactions. Large advertising space may attract the consumers' attention, but a small advertisement that rings with sincerity, and grows large, like a tree, all around it, is an asset that is worth 100 cents on every dollar. The birth of the great oak lies within the little acorn—and the little acorn that once was, finally becomes the great tree that defines time and the elements.

High School Plays Monessen Here Tomorrow Night; Great Game Promise of Coker Team

Will Be One of Last Opportunities to See Locals Extended.

CITY LEAGUE ON MONDAY

By James M. Driscoll
Sporting Editor.

The Connelville High School again meets a first class basketball team here Saturday night when the Monessen quintet will play at the gymnasium at 8:15 o'clock. That it will be a thriller there is no doubt. Monessen ranks among the best and seemingly, when one of these highly rated teams is to be played the Cokers are able to extend themselves to unknown limits.

Persons who failed to attend the Washington-Coker game last week missed a wonderful exhibition of basketball and it is a sure bet that tomorrow evening the gym will be filled.

Monessen defeated Connelville in a game on the floor there and the team is out to even up the standing. In fact, every game won from now on increases the average for the season, and this is something Connelville is very desirous of doing.

There are only three more home games, of which the clash tomorrow night is one. The team goes to Perryopolis this evening for a clash with the Perry warriors and Coach Wine has promised the Reserves the opportunity of playing. The second stringers are highly "ticked" over the prospect of seeing the Varsity sitting on the bench tonight.

INTEREST IN LOCAL LEAGUE INCREASES AS SEASON NEARS END

With the basketball season rapidly coming to a close fans are now being given the opportunity of seeing Connelville's floor team playing at their best. On Monday night two more games are scheduled in the City League. They are between the Snyder and Trotter teams and also between Captain and St. Vincent.

The Snyder outfit will be out in strength that evening in order to get a good workout for its clash with the Casey Club the following Monday. Manager Snyder has declared he will have his strongest team on the floor when it clashes with the purple and white, and the men themselves are excited to a pitch of friendly rivalry. To beat the Casey Club, which went undefeated until Wednesday has been the climax of effort for every team this season. The St. Vincent outfit did it, the Legion is primed for it and the Snyders are getting ready.

The Legion-Casey clash comes on next Monday and a crowd similar in numbers to that which attended the Casey-Legion series clashes last season is expected. A lot of talk has been going around among lovers of the game, and supporters of the former soldiers are basing their claims on the steadily improving form of the Legion quintet. The Casey backers lost a little ground when the team went down under the St. Vincent onslaught but they are willing to make wagers on the coming game.

In the second game Monday night the St. Vincent team and Captain will get together. St. Vincent is easily the favorite in the game but if the glass blowers get down "to brass tacks" it would be a worth while game. Captain generally takes the air in a few moments after the beginning of the second half, however, and then things are all off.

Only two more weeks remain on the City League schedule and these contain some very interesting games.

With the Casey and St. Vincent tied for first place, the Legion and Unity tied for second, some interesting games are promised. No one is entirely out of the running yet.

The continued sunny days are giving the baseball bugs added life. It will be several weeks yet, however, until the Connelville Independents take the field. Meanwhile the club directors are not loafing and there will be a real team at Payette Field this summer.

HOWITZER TEAM AND SERVICE COMPANY TO PLAY FOR FIRST PLACE

The championship game between the Howitzer basketball team and the Supply Company team of Scottdale, which was scheduled to be played this evening, has been postponed, and will be played on a neutral floor at Mount Pleasant some time next week, probably Friday.

Scottdale and Connelville are tied for first place in their section of the Soldiers League, each team having won four games and lost one.

The Howitzer team is planning to hold a number of practices before next Friday and is doing its best to keep in form. Although Connelville will be outweighted 15 pounds to a man, it expects to make up for this in its speed and passing, a combination which has won most of its games this season.

Quite a large number of rosters will accompany the Connelville team to Mount Pleasant, as "Abby" Ellis, official cheer leader, is busy rounding up a young army which he expects to lead there. A special car will be chartered by the Howitzers, if enough fans signify their intention of going to see the game.

The Connelville Tennis Association courts are being rounded into shape. A meeting of the association will probably be held early next week.

The Midgots defeated the West Side, 25-21, in the Boys' League at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon.

Victory notes can be exchanged for the above notes through any federal Reserve Bank.

If Bobby Roth's knee is in good shape he has a great chance to make himself solid in the New York team. Roth will probably be called upon to substitute for Ruth until Babe's suspension is raised.

CONFLUENCE, March 17.—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wagner of Connelldale were visitors here yesterday.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

It Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded, or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Advertisement

THE SOISSON.

"THE AR. NO VILLAINS" the feature picture today and tomorrow, presents Viola Dana in the stellar role. The picture gives some limited glimpses of that part of San Francisco known as the Barbary Coast district, one of the most notorious sections along the Pacific. In her various characterizations as a member of the federal secret service, Miss Dana is excellent and keeps the audience wondering what hair-breadth escape will be next. It is the story of an attempt by Uncle Sam's sleuths to capture a daring band of opium smugglers through the medium of a female detective who becomes a stenographer to the man who is supposed to be implicated with the gang, later going as nurse to one of the supposed members of that gang when with everything, peculiarly working successfully love steps in and the carefully laid plans, all at once, Gaston Glass made a fine secret service opera or while Edward Cecil was convincing as the respectable business man who arranged for the smuggling. Others in the cast were DeWitt Jennings, Fred Kelsey and Jack Cosgrave. Mary O'Hara adapted it from Frank P. Adams story.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. No more "Rainbow Ridge" will be seen in "The Sign on the Door."

THE PARAMOUNT

"SURE FIRE"—Featuring Hoot Gibson, the popular Western star is the principal attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre. It's a Western story, silvenced by many human touches and told in a romantic way that only Eugene Manlove Rhodes can narrate. The noted author wrote the story is "Bransford of Rainbow Ridge," a novel in the screen adaptation by George C. Hill and the painstaking clever direction by Jack Ford the absorbing story has lost none of its picturesque Western twang of romance and action. Hoot Gibson the fast riding Western star was never better than in Jeff Bransford, the indigent cowboy who becomes a two-faced man for the love of a girl. Bransford is a human lovable character brought to life by Gibson's admirable personality. Jeff didn't want to fight—he would rather have just sort of loafed around. But, they got him mad. One bandit jumped on his neck, another attacked him from the rear. There was nothing left for Jeff to do. He had to fight—so he cleaned them both up—and their gang too. In between times Jeff manages to save his sweetheart's sister from eloping with a libertine and he also rescues $20,000 from the clutches of highway men.

THE ORPHEUM.

"ROOM AND BOARD" with Constance Binney in the leading role is the leading attraction at this theatre today and tomorrow. The story concerns the fortunes of an Irish noblewoman, Lady Noroon, of Kildare, whose father is a general spendthrift, had a way followed a deliberate policy of putting off the debts and worries today until some vague tomorrow. The castle is growing shabby and the estate has gone to seed, few servants remain and mortgages threaten to take the little that is left. But so long as he has his fox hunting and his toddy the Earl is content. The Earl is killed in the hunting field and the rest of the story deals with Lady Noroon's gallant fight with debts and her leasing of her ancestral castle to a wealthy American and her own pretense that she is one of the castle servants left in charge by the absent Lady Noroon. The settings for action and Irish village life, the life the castle interiors furnished with fine examples of antique furniture are all done on in elaborate scale.

VICTOR ARTISTS.

Seldom do those of us who own Victrolas have the opportunity of seeing and hearing in person, the artists who make the records. And at still more infrequent intervals is the opportunity of hearing eight artists on one program presented. That is why, perhaps, the concert and entertainment to be given by the Light Famous Victor Artists at the High School Auditorium on next Tuesday evening, March 21, has created such unusual

"NOW I AM WELL AND STRONG"

Are you going to let your self run down in health and be subject to headaches, indigestion, nervousness and all that long train of ailments that cause so much pain and misery and unhappiness? Don't do it! Start now to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with you. It will build you up to good health again. It contains a form of iron that gets into the blood easily and gives you strength and greater vitality and a good color and you will sleep well because your nerves won't bother you. Then you can say, "I feel great and mean every word of it. Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been used for 40 years—you can depend upon it to help you back to health." into a man must love. Coming is out of the night famous group as the Peerless Quartet. Thousands of Victor records of this popular quartet have been sold but very few people know who the men comprising the quartet are. Albert Campbell tenor or is a brilliant fan of the first water. Not alone does he like to watch a good game but he also plays well. They do say he often helps out the first school back home at Lushington, L. I. although a little beyond the age of the other members of the team. Campbell says: "They stay boys a long time in New York State."

Henry Hart, tenor, so favorably known as a ballad singer needs little introduction. He is first of all a thorough musician having played piano with one of New York's best known teachers. He is a tenor soloist at the Church of the Incarnation, New York City for a number of years. John Meyer, baritone, is a composer of music having several popular numbers to his credit. For years he arranged the music used by the Storying Trio as well as those used by the Peerless Quartet.

Frank Croston, bass, has appeared in every city of consequence in the United States as soloist. Having first seen the light of day in the blue grass state of Kentucky he is frequently called "Colonel Frank" by those who know him best.

In addition to the artists mentioned above, Connelleville will welcome the appearance of Billy Murray, tenor comedian, Monroe Silver, soloist, Fred Van Eps, banjoist and Paul Panzer, pianist. The program will be given entirely in English with complete numbers, well known to lovers of popular music.

MARY MARIE

By Eleanor M. Porter

Illustrations by
R. H. Livingstone

She got so she just stayed in her room, looking out the window. I tried to make her put on her pretty clothes, and do as the other ladies did, and go out and walk and sit on the big piazzas, and dance, and eat at the pretty little tables. She did, some, when we first came, and took me, and I just loved it. They were such beautiful ladies, with their bright eyes, and their red cheeks and jolly ways; and their dresses were so perfectly lovely, all silks and satins and sparkling spangles, and diamonds and rubies and emeralds, and silk stockings, and little bits of gold and silver slippers.

And once, I saw two of them smoking. They had the cutest little cigarettes (Mother said they were in gold holders, and I know then that I was seeing life—real life; not the stupid kind you get back in a country town like Andersonville. And I said so to Mother; and I was going to ask her if Boston was like that. But I didn't get the chance. She jumped up so quick I thought something had hurt her, and cried, "Good Heavens, Baby!" (How I hate to be called "Baby"!)

Then she just threw some money on to the table to pay the bill and hurried me away.

It was after that that she began to stay in her room so much, and not take me anywhere except for walks at the other end of the town where it was all quiet and stupid, and no music or lights or anything. And though I tended and looked to go back to the pretty, jolly places, she wouldn't ever take me; not once.

Then by and by, one day we met a little black-haired woman with white cheeks and very big and eyes. There weren't any spangles and gold slippers about her, I can tell you! She was crying on a bench in the park, and Mother told me to stay back and watch the swans while she went up and spoke to her. (Why do old folks always make us watch swans or read books or look into store windows or run and play all the time? Don't they suppose we understand perfectly well what it means—that they're going to say something they don't want us to hear?) Well, Mother and the lady on the bench talked and talked over so long, and then Mother called me up, and the lady cried a little over me, and said, "Now, perhaps, if I had a little girl like that—" Then she stopped and cried some more.

We saw this lady real often after that. She was nice and pretty and sweet, and I liked her; but she was always awfully sad, and I don't believe it was half so good for Mother to be with her as it would have been for her to be with those jolly, laughing ladies that were always having such good times. But I couldn't make Mother see it that way at all. There are times when it seems as if Mother just couldn't see things the way I do. Honestly, it seems sometimes almost as if she was the cross-current and contradiction instead of me. It does.

Well, as I said before, I didn't like it very well out there, and I don't believe Mother did, either. But it's all over now, and we're back home packing up to go to Boston.

Everything seems awfully queer, like because Father isn't here, for one thing. He wrote very polite and asked us to come to get our things, and he said he was going to New York on business for several days, so Mother need not fear he should annoy her with his presence. Then, another thing, Mother's queer. This morning she was sitting away at the top of her voice and raising all over the house picking up things she wanted; and seemed so happy. But this afternoon I found her down on the floor in the library crying as if her heart would break, with her head in Father's big chair before the fireplace. But she jumped up the minute I came in and said, no, no, she didn't want anything. She was just tired; that's all. And when I asked her if she was sorry after all, that she was going to Boston to live, she said, no, no, no, indeed, she guessed she wasn't. She was just as glad as glad could be that she was going only she wished Monday would hurry up and come so we could be gone.

And that's all. It's a Saturday now, and we go just day after tomorrow. Her trunk is the most packed, and Mother says she wishes she'd planned to go today. I've said goodbye to all the girls, and promised to write loads of letters about Boston and everything. They are almost as excited as I am; and I've promised, "across my heart and hope to die" that I won't love those Boston girls better than I do them—especially Charlie Heywood, of course, my dearest friend.

Nurse Sarah is hovering around everywhere, asking to help, and pronouncing she's sorry we're going. But she isn't sorry. She's glad. I know she is. She never did appreciate Mother, and she thinks she'll have everything her own way now. But she won't. I could tell her a thing or two if I wanted to. But I shan't.

Father's sister, Aunt Jane Anderson, from St. Paul, is coming to keep house for him, partly on account of Father, and partly on account of me. "If that child is going to be with her father six months of the time, she's got to have some woman there beside a meddling old nurse and a nosy servant girl." They didn't know I heard that. But I did. And now Aunt Jane is coming. My! how and Nurse Sarah would be if she knew. But she doesn't.

I guess I'll end this chapter here and begin a fresh one down in Boston. Oh! I do so wonder what it'll be like—Boston, Mother's home, Grandpa Desmond, and all the rest. I'm so excited I can hardly wait. You see, Mother never took me home with her but once, and then I was a very small child. I don't know why, but I guess Father didn't want me to go. It's safe to say he didn't, anyway. He never wants me to do anything, hardly. That's why I suspect him of not wanting me to go down to Grandpa Desmond's. And Mother didn't go only once, in cases.

Now this will be the end. And when I begin again it will be in Boston. Only think of it—really, truly Boston!

CHAPTER IV.

When I Am Marie.

Yes, I'm here. I've been here a week. But this is the first minute I've had a chance to write a word. I've been so busy just being here. And so busy Mother. There's been such a lot going on since we came. But I'll try now to begin at the beginning and tell what happened.

Well, first we got into Boston at four o'clock Monday afternoon, and there was Grandpa Desmond to meet us. He's lovely—tall and dignified, with gray hair and merry eyes like Mother's, only his are behind glasses. At the station he just kissed Mother and no one said he was glad to see us, and led us to the place where Peter driver Grandpa's automobile, and he's lovely, too.

Mother and Grandpa talked very fast and very lively all the way home, and Mother laughed quite a lot. But in the hall she cried a little, and Grandpa patted her shoulder, and said, "There, there," and told her how glad he was to get his little girl back, and that they were going to be very happy now and forget the past. And Mother said, yes, yes, indeed, she knew she was; and she was so glad to be there, and that everything was going to be just the same, wasn't it? Only—then all of a sudden she looked over at me and began to cry again—only, of course, things couldn't be "just the same," she checked, hurrying over to me and putting both arms around me, and crying louder than ever.

When Grandpa came and sat on both, and patted us, and said, "There, there," and patted off his glasses and wiped them very fast and very hard. But it wasn't only a minute or two before Mother was laughing again, and saying, "Nonsense!" and "The dear!"

Well, First We Got into Boston at Four O'clock Monday Afternoon, and There Was Grandpa Desmond to Meet Us.

Coughing Censes.

Use for Chest Colds, Too, and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

When you can make, in two minutes, a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often overnight causes stubborn coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Hawking and snuffling and also soreness of the mucous membranes go and you will feel fine in almost no time.

Just get one ounce of Parmit (genuine strength) and to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an invigorating remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for colds and acute nasal colds. Advertisement

LITTLE CHANGE IN BEEHIVE OUTPUT; SLOW COAL GAIN

Former 141,000, Latter 10,586,000 Tons, or 1.6 Per Cent Increase During the Week of March 4.

Little change marked the production of beehive coke in the United States in the first week of March, says the weekly report of the Geological Survey. From reports of coke loaders, rendered by the principal carriers, the output is estimated at 141,000 net tons, as against 146,000 tons during the preceding week. The extent of the present depression in the coke market may be judged from the fact that in the corresponding week of 1920, 412,000 tons were produced.

Cumulative production for the year to date now amounts to 1,131,000 tons, or but 51 per cent of that in the corresponding period, a year ago.

Production by states, compared with the corresponding week of 1921, was as follows:

	1922	1921
Pennsylvania and Ohio	114,000	145,000
West Virginia	8,000	8,000
Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia	6,000	11,000
Virginia and Kentucky	5,000	10,000
Colorado and New Mexico	1,000	3,000
Washington and Utah	6,000	2,000
U. S. Total	141,000	178,000
1921 to date	2,095,000	2,095,000
1921 to date	1,131,000	1,131,000

Decrease from 1921 961,000
Production of soft coal continues to increase slowly. The total output in the week, including lignite and coal coked, is estimated at 1,936,000 net tons, an increase of 182,000 tons, or 1.6 per cent, over the week preceding. Production is still some 2,600,000 tons short of the maximum reached just before the mine strike of 1919, and even a half-million tons less than in the third week of last October, when consumers anticipated a possible railroad strike.

A considerable part of the current production is being added to the stock piles of consumers.

In the month of February the total production of bituminous coal was 40,351,000 net tons, or at the rate of 1,708,000 tons per working day. Although smaller than in the boom years, 1916-1918, this was greater than in any year before or since. In comparison with January it was an increase of nine per cent. This favorable showing is principally due to an effort of consumers to accumulate reserve stocks against a possible interruption of supply rather than to any marked increase in the rate at which coal is being consumed.

Spring's Greatest Enchantment—

The Beautiful Things-to-Wear
One Can Get at Wright's for Only $25

PERHAPS it happened at the last meeting of the club. Mrs. Jones stirred restlessly in her chair and said "Yes, they have lovely things at Wright's if a person can judge from what she sees in the window. But I wonder how reasonable their prices are?"

Just to relieve any query of that sort lurking in your mind or the mind of Mrs. Jones we'd like to have you visit us sometime this week-end that we may show you the well-tailored, beautiful, stylish garments you can get here for as little as $25.

Positively, they're a revelation—these reasonable apparel prices of ours! Almost as great a revelation as the gay and colorful fancies Fashion has conjured up to bring loveliness to every woman in Fayette.

Promise yourself—and your friends—to see them at once.
